270-20. Signs. [Amended 5-27-1982]

G. Temporary signs. [Amended 8-27-1987; 9-27-1990]

(1) Temporary signs are subject to the following regulations:

(a) Real estate "for sale" signs. One sign per lot is permitted to advertise the sale or rental of the premises upon which it is located by the owner or by a real estate agent or broker. This sign is not to exceed an area of six square feet and shall be removed seven days after the execution of a contract or the expiration of the listing agreement. In the event that the contract is voided or canceled within 60 days, the sign may be placed back on the property without an additional fee. All "for sale" signs shall be set back at least 15 feet from the curblin and shall not, under any circumstances, block the vision of the driver of an automobile.

(b) Real estate "open house" signs. The owner of a residential home which is being offered for sale may erect, in addition to a "for sale" sign, an "open house" sign. Only one "open house" sign will be permitted on the property and shall be placed no sooner than one hour before the beginning of the scheduled open house and removed immediately upon its conclusion. "Open house" signs shall not be permitted on county roads, state highways and other major arteries or any street in the Borough of Allendale.

(c) In residential zone districts where an area has been subdivided and five or more newly constructed residences are offered for sale, a temporary sign may be erected on one lot of the subdivision to advertise it. The sign shall not be larger than 36 square feet. Permits for signs permitted by this subsection are required and shall be issued for periods of one year and may be renewed as provided in Subsection B for a total not to exceed three years.

(d) During the construction, alteration or renovation of a building or driveway or during property landscaping in any zone, temporary signs advertising the names of contractors, subcontractors or professionals employed in such construction, alteration, renovation or landscaping shall not be permitted. [Amended 9-28-2000]

(e) Upon written application by a nonprofit organization, the Mayor and Council may instruct the Construction Code Official to issue a permit without fee for the erection of a temporary sign or of a display banner for a period not to exceed two weeks in connection with an event sponsored by said nonprofit organization. Such permit shall not be issued more often than twice in any twelve-month period to any one organization.

(f) Signs for garage sales, lawn sales, attic sales, rummage sales, flea market sales or tag sales (collectively "garage sales") No such signs shall be posted on structures such as telephone poles, street signs, trees or fences. Notwithstanding anything else contained in this chapter, the Police Department shall enforce these regulations relating to garage sale signs. [Added 3-28-1996]

(2) Fees and fines. There shall be a fee of $20 for a permit to erect a general temporary sign. The fee for Real Estate signs is $45. However, no such fee or permit shall be required for garage sale signs. There shall be a fine of $1,000 imposed upon the property owner or the owner's agent or applicant for any violation of the regulations which apply to the temporary signs. A fine of $1,000 shall be imposed for each and every day the violation continues to exist. Permits issued for general temporary signs shall be issued for a period not to exceed ten (10) days or when the reason for the issuance of the permit no longer exists or is otherwise described herein, whichever is shorter. Temporary real estate sign permits are valid for six months. These signs must be removed within ten (10) days after a contract has been made.
